

European Integration and Regional Cooperation in the Parliamentary People's Parties' Electoral Programmes (1989–2004)

Abstract:

The aim of the article is to analyze the program assumptions of foreign policy, formulated by Polish people's parties after the year 1989. The area of the interests are: attitudes to the process of European integration, concepts of regional cooperation, relations with neighboring countries, Polish presence in NATO and future vision of European Union. The analysis concerned pre-election programs from the years: 1991, 1993, 1997, 2001, as well as documents created in the year 1989, when two people's parties were created. The study covered concepts developed by: PSL "O", PSL "S", PSL, PL, SLCh, SKL, Samoobrona RP.

Keywords: foreign policy, integration, regional cooperation, people's movement.